Conference June 21 on County Land Usage Plan

A conference will be held Wednesday, June 21, on establishment of a land use plan for Madison County, it was announced during the weekend by Alton May, chairman of the Land Use Committee of the Madison County Board.

May cited a threat by a U. S. Housing and Urban Development Department official to withdraw federal funds unless a comprehensive land use plan is formulated and adopted.

The committee is asking all branches of the city and county governments to attend the discussion, to be held at the Round Table on Highway 157 at 7 p.m. June 21.

Meanwhile, five members of a new County Regional Planning Commission were appointed by the Madison County Board in a monthly meeting at Edwardsville this morning to reconstitute a planning body under the county's zoning ordinance.

The new body replaces a planning commission established upon adoption of the county zoning ordinance, but which had been inactive for several years.

A resolution creating the new commission specifies the body as a fact-finding unit with authority to investigate and gather statistics pertaining to the proposed development of projects in unincorporated areas. The bill also authorizes the commission to employ assistants in its investigative work.

Named to the committee were Arthur Griffin, Granite City; Edward Morrissey, Godfrey; James Burk, Wood River; John Mull, Bethalto; and Clarence Kagan, Collinsville.

A petition for rezoning of a 772-acre tract of land in Chouteau and Edwardsville Townships for a residential, commercial and recreational development west of the bluffs and north of old Route 66 was referred back to the Zoning Board of Appeals for a rehearing.

Board members said today they have been told "new evidence" is to be submitted in the case. The Zoning Board of Appeals earlier recommended the board rezoned the tract from an agricultural district.

The board also concurred in an application for a federal grant for planning by the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission and agreed to provide a 10% local share through in-kind services. The application will ask $100,000.

Environmental improvement need not be won at the expense of economic health.

That is the message of the 1971 Annual Report just released by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency. The report covers the agency's first full calendar year since its creation by the General Assembly in 1970.

"It is cruel to pretend that we have to choose between environmental improvement and economic prosperity," said state EPA Director William L. Blaser. "The record is clear—in Illinois, we can have both."

Decisions won by EPA included convictions against major Illinois corporations, and orders for pollution abatement under required performance bonds serving as insurance for citizens that necessary improvements would be made.

"Those controls are being installed; the companies remain in business; the workers remain employed," Blaser said.

Legal action taken by EPA against Granite City Steel Co. led to a settlement that "may set an industry pattern, including proposals to develop coke oven controls, establishment of a $150,000 environmental scholarship fund, and posting of $3.7 million in performance bonds to insure installation of control equipment on a specified timetable," Blaser noted.

Meeting together for the first time, 1,200 churchmen from three major Illinois communities will assemble in Champaign June 14-18. The concurrent assemblies will explore the theme "Common Concerns—Creative Responses."

The Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) in Illinois and

Fires Fought in Madison, Venice

Fires plagued the Madison-Venice area late last week and during the weekend.

The staff photograph at the left shows Madison and Venice firemen last night at the Moss American Co., Inc., wood preserving plant between Washington and McCambridge Avenues, Madison, adjacent to the Laclede Steel Co. The Moss American plant is part of the forest products subsidiary of the Kerr-McGee Corp.

A weed fire spread at 6:45 p.m. Sunday to stacks of wooden railroad ties and then to a railroad freight car filled with creosoted ties. Madison firemen battled the blaze and culled for aid from the Venice department in order to save several other carloads of ties on a nearby siding.

Dense black smoke was created by the fire, which occupied the Madison volunteers for two hours. No loss estimate was made.

The staff picture at the right shows the scene in the 500 block of Gardner Road, Kerr Island, Venice, after a blaze at 4:50 p.m. Thursday destroyed three vacant frame houses and also burned weeds and scrap materials. Part of the area had been used as a dumping ground.

Venice firemen started a back fire to keep the main blaze from spreading out of control, and then let the flames burn out. They returned to the station at 6:30 p.m.

Firemen believe someone may have been burning old cars or trash when high weeds also caught fire and the blaze spread to the dilapidated buildings.

The blaze ignited an Illinois Power Co. pole, tripping a circuit breaker and causing a power outage for about 30 minutes.

Waker Campaigns in Area

Dan Walker, Illinois Democratic nominee for governor, campaigned in Madison and St. Clair Counties Friday and Saturday and again met a Democratic candidate for governor of Missouri, Joe Teasdale, He

Simmons a Delegate; Rule Against Hester

Walter T. "Buck" Simmons of Venice, Appellate Court clerk and Madison County Democratic chairman, was one of ten added to the Illinois Democratic national convention delegation Friday.

At the meeting in Springfield, Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley and others urged expansion of the number of at-large delegates, with individual members to cast a half-vote rather than a full vote at the convention opening July 10 in Miami Beach, Fla.

Whether another Quad-Cityan, Charles L. Hester, owner of Charlie's Restaurant in Granite City, will be seated as a delegate in Florida remains to be decided at the national convention.

pledged "no deals, no compromises on the issues."

Walker attended a Madison County Bar Association picnic Friday evening at the farm of a friend, Attorney Dick Mudge. Later that night Walker adressed a meeting of 50 volunteer campaign workers in the home of Charles Kolker, East St. Louis.

On Saturday, Walker met with volunteer campaign workers at Sunset Hill Holiday Inn and with Madison County regular organization Democrats in the Lewis and Clark Motel on Highway Three.

He conferred with Teasdale on Eads Bridge at noon Saturday.

Walker won the governor nomination in an upset after he walked 1,197 miles through Illinois. It was an effort, he said, to take his campaign directly to the people. Teasdale also is a "walking" candidate.

Walker charged "too much waste and political payrolling" in government and has pledged to "hold the line" on taxes.

"There is no need for new taxes on tax increase," he said. "Some major belt-tightening is in order in Illinois."

Walker, 49, resigned as vice-president, general counsel and director of Montgomery Ward & Co. to run for governor. He is a past president of the Chicago Crime Commission and a graduate of the Naval Academy at Annapolis. He served two hitchhikes in the Navy, during World War II and the Korean War.

Walker asserted that he is seeking to end machine politics in Illinois. "Governor Ogilvie has created a costly machine that takes care of politicians first and the people second. That is not my priority. Government must deal with the people's needs first."

Walker was an administrative assistant to the late Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, a law clerk to U. S. Supreme Court Chief Justice Fred Vinson and campaign chairman for Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson's 1970 campaign for the Senate.

A Methodist, he resides in Deerfield, Lake County, with his wife, Roberta, and their seven children, who range in age from 24 to 10. The Walkers celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary earlier this year.

In his weekend talks, Walker stressed his continuing opposition to political state-making and the patronage system.

He said he will seek the help of organization Democrats but also wants his own volunteers in every county. "We can win the way I want to win, with bipartisan support and your help. My polls show today we'd win 70%-30%, but we're up against a resourceful opponent."

Walker said news media have not adequately aired his views and said he will rely strongly on television advertising, plus a vehicular tour of the state.

He called Madison-St. Clair Counties "an absolutely critical area, where we're simply going to have to come out with a good vote."

St. Louis Woman Killed at Bridge

Mrs. Erika Ickenroth, 37, of 141 Bude St., Calverton Park, St. Louis, was killed when her auto drove through metal barricades at the east end of the old Chain of Rocks Bridge at 8:20 p.m. Saturday.

The auto struck bannisters of the bridge. She was pronounced dead at the scene by Madison County Coroner Robert Thomas, who will conduct an inquest.

State police said her car was demolished after traveling 100 yards past the barricades and hitting railings on both sides of the bridge. Owned by the city of Madison, the bridge has been closed to the public for two years.

Two Men Here Refuse To Waive Extradition

Richard Elmore Howell, 20, of West Frankfort, and Terry Williams, 35, of Lake Alfred, Fla., arrested last week in Granite City on warrants charging murder in Lake County, Fla., refused to waive extradition proceedings here Friday.

They are being held in the Madison County Jail on fugitive charges pending further action by Florida authorities.

They are charged with the fatal shotgun shooting of William Bogan, 65, of Lake Alfred, in an auto after he had been in the company of two men in a tavern.

The Granite City Jaycees' 11th annual "Homecoming" festival will get under way at 6 p.m. Thursday with the opening of midway rides at the festival site at 25th Street and Missouri Avenue.

A wide selection of carnival rides and games, together with top flight entertainment and variety booths—the latter sponsored by local organizations and service clubs, will be offered area residents who attend the four-day celebration, according to Gerald Gann, homecoming chairman.

Two matinee sessions, with rides costing 25 cents each, are planned Saturday and Sunday, from 1 to 5 p.m., Gann said.

Free entertainment will be offered nightly, starting at 7 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday and from 5 to 9 p.m. Sunday. Rides this year include a ferris wheel, merry-go-round, tilt-a-wheel, octopus, fun house, rock-a-plane and a new round.

A beer garden, sponsored by the young men's service club, again will be featured. International food dishes will be available to patrons, Gann said.

Farm Set-Aside Payments Due In Early July

Each day more farmers are in compliance with provisions of the 1972 farm set-aside programs for feed grain and wheat, according to L. L. Losh, chairman of the Madison County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee.

Through June 8 some 500 farmers had certified, thus virtually assuring themselves of receiving early farm program payments. Program payments will begin nationwide on July 1, and approximately 500 county farmers are expected to receive set-aside payment checks during the first week of July. Some 1,865 farmers are participating in the feed grain and wheat programs in the county.

The time lag between the date a farmer certifies that he ASCS county office and the date his program payment is received is about two weeks, once payments have begun, Losh said.

Certification is the method the farm program agency of the U. S. Department of Agriculture uses in order to provide early payments while at the same time obtaining assurance of farmer compliance with program provisions.

The farmer first certifies his farm is in compliance, then payment is made to him. Through random selection some farms in each county are visited and checked for compliance each year by ASCS officials.

If a farm is found not in compliance, the farmer may forfeit some or all of his program benefits. If a significant number of farms in a county should be found not in compliance, it could result in a county-wide compliance check.

The certification and random checking procedure is used in all States, according to Losh, and has proved to be an effective tool for efficient administration of farm programs.

The local farm program official also pointed out that the early farm payments to be made beginning July 1 are preliminary payments. Final payment rates are based on the difference between average prices received during the first five months of the marketing year and a total guaranteed return specified in the law.

"In the case of wheat we know that the early payment is approximately 75 percent of the total payment, with the other 25% to be made after Dec. 1. For feed grains, the preliminary payment also may turn out to be the final payment, as happened last year."

"But we can't be sure until several months' market prices are averaged out," Losh said. He urged all farmers to make an effort to get in early to certify. "If everyone waits until the last two or three days of June, our office staff simply cannot handle them," he stated.

Conducted Tours in Parks Growing in Popularity

Copley News Service
Springfield — The Conservation Department's interpretive-recreation program continues to grow in size and popularity. The program is following a trend that was set some time ago in the national parks. This consisted of the ranger-naturalist, conducted tour programs. These programs have been adopted in some form or another by the various state park systems.

In Illinois the program is connected with the Division of Parks and Memorials. What the staff's main aim in the Illinois program is to try to get to the people's needs or interests at the state parks. Aims are also set for quality outdoor experiences. These range from recreational to historic.

Presently an interpretive staff is on hand year-round at Rock Cut, Illinois Beach, Mississippi Palisades, Starved Rock, Pere Marquette, Giant City, Fort Chartres, and Lincoln's New Salem State Parks. Conservation Department Director Henry N. Barkhausen and Parks and Memorials Division head Ronald D. Johnson are hopeful that the program can be expanded to other parks.

The interpretive-recreation program has been widely acclaimed by the persons visiting the various state parks scattered throughout Illinois. Some special events for weekend enjoyment already have been held at the state parks or they are coming up. For instance there will be a Civil War Cantonment July 22-23 at the Mississippi Palisades State Park, a crafts festival on June 24-25. Other special events such as Indian Powwows for Blackhawk and Kickapoo State Parks are planned.

Also being planned is a Grand Leaves, including a candlelit evening reception with a string ensemble for the Old State Capitol in Vandalia.

It has been estimated that some 26 million people visited Illinois parks and memorials throughout 1971. Park officials feel that this year this figure will be topped. Officials say usage up to now has been heavy. Good weather has helped in bringing out the crowds.

Must Register Mobile Homes by Thursday

Mobile homes in Madison County must be registered with the county's License and Mobile Home Tax Department at Edwardsville not later than Thursday, Roger Deltour, administrator of the department, reminded mobile home owners today.

The mobile home privilege tax, expected to bring Madison County about $300,000 per year, has been ruled unconstitutional in an opinion by Attorney General William J. Scott, but Deltour tour pointed out that the opinion does not invalidate the law.

Deltour has written township assessors suggesting that they carry mobile homes on their books so that owners will not go without paying any tax in event the mobile home tax is removed.

Registration may be made at Deltour's Edwardsville office, or by calling for a blank to be returned by mail.

Workshop in Minority Arts Set at SIU-SW

A workshop in minority arts will open June 20 at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern, directed by Philip Hampton, associate professor of art. "The show will be used as a point of study for students enrolled in the special training course."

The workshop will deal with the problems of Indian-American, Mexican-American and African-American artists, Hampton said. "Specialists have been invited from selected institutions throughout the United States to provide essential information on the subject of minority arts in America."

Some of the nationally and internationally recognized specialists contributing to the workshop will be Katherine Dunham and the Performing Arts Training Center, SIU-SW; Ricardo Pelaez, Mexican choreographer from Hollywood; Samella Lewis, professor of art at California State College and special consultant on African-American art; Alan Velie, professor of English, University of Oklahoma, a specialist in Indian literature; and Daniel Kuene, professor of language and literature, University of Wisconsin, specialist in African languages and poetry. ## State Expanding Hearing, Vision Testing Program

Copley News Service

Springfield—In an attempt to head off serious medical and educational problems by providing treatment as early as possible, the Illinois department of public health is expanding its vision and hearing testing programs.

Overall, the expansion will be a three year program, beginning this year in the southern half of the state, moving into the northwest part of Illinois next year, and finally into Chicago and the suburban metropolitan area the third year.

P. H. Shattuck, department hearing conservation coordinator, said the program will be implemented only in areas which are not already covered by local or area health agencies.

Goal of the program, he said, is to identify as early as possible the child with a hearing or vision problem, or both. For this reason, pre-schoolers ages three to five will be tested. When testing indicates a problem exists, the child will be channeled, through his parents, to a private physician for more extensive examination, and be channeled as well into special educational programs.

Two-Pronged Effort
This two-pronged effort, Shattuck said, is hoped will help prevent the medical problem from becoming more serious by going untreated, and prevent later educational problems by letting the schools begin an early prevention program.

Though there is already a vision and hearing program in Illinois, it is primarily for school age children, and is conducted through the schools, Shattuck said. What services were provided were arranged by the department on a contractual basis with special education agencies.

The new expanded program is part of Gov. Richard Ogilvie's recently announced Medichex program. Relying on portable equipment, the mass screening program will be conducted at the community level. Technicians will move in and set up the facility, announce clinic sites, and invite all youngsters in the right age brackets to come in for testing, Shattuck said.

Special emphasis will be put on centers where numbers of children would be enrolled such as day care, nursery schools, pre-school programs, and such.

Boy Scout Camp Sunnen Expects Record Summer

"Camp Sunnen will experience its heaviest schedule in its 19-year history this summer," Robert Blew, camping chairman for the Cahokia Mound Council, Boy Scouts of America, reported today.

Located near Potosi, Mo., in the heart of the Clark National Forest, the camp will be attended by well over 1,000 Scouts and leaders who will spend at least a week in camp. Nine hundred and fifty campers are signed up for a week in the woods.

Camp Sunnen has received national recognition as one of the outstanding camp operations in the nation, featuring the basic Boy Scout patrol method of learning.

As near as possible the Scouts while in camp are members of the same patrols they belong to at home, and are under the same adult leadership.

The Scouts carry on most of their activities by patrols ranging in size from six to eight. They cook their own food for the entire week, beginning with rather simple menus, which become more and more complex as they learn to cook and cooperate with each other.

Assisting the local Scoutmasters in camp is a group of 27 highly-trained young men, with specialties ranging from aquatics to ecology.

Every phase of the Boy Scout program is available to the Scouts, and special emphasis is given to such items as nature study, canoeing, wild-life management and similar areas that are not readily available in the city.

A Junior Leader Training program for the boy leaders of each troop is held the week prior to the troop coming to camp. This special training acquaints the boy leaders with the procedures and facilities at Sunnen, and also gives training in responsible leadership which in turn will assist him when he returns home with his troop.

The final week of the seven-week camping season will be from July 30 until Aug. 5.

The Piasa Bird Council, with headquarters in Wood River, will send their Scouts to Camp Sunnen this summer.

Their camp, located near Godfrey, has been closed due to pollution of the lake. The Piasa Scouts are paying a higher fee for the use of Camp Sunnen. An estimated 250 Scouts will be attending from the neighboring council.

New Class Confirmed At St. Peter Church

Members of the Confirmation Class at St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ took their vows and were received into the membership of the church during worship service. They were presented prior to the service to the Church Council and elders at a meeting which their parents also attended. Following their confirmation, the class received its first Communion.

As a part of their Confirmation study, the class members assisted the pastor, the Rev. Robert L. Kettelhut, in preparing the services. They prepared the parameters for the lectern and pulpit with symbols appropriate for the day.

Each member of the class symbol of the service which was put in its place as the worship began. Following the service, they joined the pastor at the door to receive the greetings of the congregation.

Get Receipts for Political Gifts

Internal Revenue Service

Q) What verification will the IRS require of individual taxpayers claiming a deduction or credit for political contributions made after Dec. 31, 1971?

A) Taxpayers must have a written receipt in order to substantiate an allowable deduction or credit for political contributions.

In view of the widespread use of checks, a cancelled check will in most cases meet the requirement for a written receipt and be accepted as proof of payment.

However, in certain instances, the IRS may require additional verification from the taxpayer.

A candidate or campaign committee may ensure that its contributions will not be used for such additional verification by issuing their own specially authorized receipts.

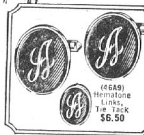

These receipts, if properly completed and issued, will be accepted by the IRS and no further verification will be required of the taxpayer.

Q) I am a carpenter. Each day I take my tools with me when I drive to work. Does this mean that I can deduct the cost of operating my car as a business expense?

A) If you haul tools in your car for your convenience in commuting to and from your place of business, the cost of operating your car is nondeductible.

However, if you cannot store them where you work, or if you work at different locations every day, and would not use your car but for the business necessity of hauling tools that are too bulky or heavy to be carried on public transportation, the cost is deductible.

State to Bring Dentist to Child In New Program

By JOAN MURARO
Copley News Service

Springfield — If Mother can't or won't take the children to a dentist, the Illinois department of public health is going to bring the dentist to the children.

Though the department has had a mobile unit in operation for the last several years roving over the entire state, the program has now been overhauled and the unit is in use only in the counties which make up the Marion region in southern Illinois.

Heading up the mobile unit is Dr. Thomas Matteson, who takes the fully equipped van through the region, to make final examinations and treat dental needs.

Dr. Carl L. Sebelius, head of the dental division in the department, said the unit was assigned to the southern region because there are so few dentists available in the area. He said the use of the mobile unit throughout the state was halted primarily for two reasons, the difficulty in keeping dentists who were willing to be constantly moving through the state, and to encourage those areas which were able to do so, to establish their own programs.

Though the dental program is part of Gov. Richard Ogilvie's recently announced Medichex program, Dr. Sebelius stressed that the children covered by the program had already been eligible for dental care under existing programs.

During the school year, Dr. Matteson usually takes the van to schools, taking advantage of a sort of captive audience, Dr. Sebelius said. He said the presence of the van usually attracts the children's interest, overcoming their initial reluctance to the idea of a dental checkup.

Now that school is out for the summer, Dr. Sebelius said, the van will probably concentrate on day camps and Head Start programs, where congregations of children have already been assembled.

The van includes a regular dental chair, and a small basin

Births, Deaths Here Declining This Year

The numbers of births and deaths in the Quad-City area for the first five months of this year are lower than those of the same period in 1971, according to a vital statistics report by Robert W. Stevens, clerk of Granite City.

The report showed that 424 infants were born here this year less than the 466 births reported in the same five-month period last year. The 79 births last month were fewer than the 87 births reported in April but were more than the 77 recorded in May 1971.

A total of 176 deaths have occurred here thus far in 1972, less than the 184 in the same period of 1971, the report showed. The 39 deaths in May were an increase over the 31 reported in April and the 27 reported in May 1971.

No fetal deaths were reported in May, leaving the total for the first five months of the year at four, two less than the six reported in the same period of 1971. Two fetal deaths were reported in May 1971.

where youngsters visiting the unit can be given instruction in preventive care by proper brushing. Recently, for a short period, the basin and the brush, in fact, provided most of the services from the van, when the electric motor that operates the chair burned out, and had to be replaced.

Treasurer Sees State Bankruptcy in Fall, Says Both Nominees Running for Governor Giving Voters Too Rosy Financial Outlook

State Treasurer Alan J. Dixon urged last week that "the state administration reduce spending or Illinois will start going bankrupt next September."

Dixon revealed the first full monthly results of a cash management program initiated by his office after more than a year's study, and showed reporters graphs illustrating what he called "the drastic truth about our fiscal situation."

"Beginning next September, the state will experience a cash drain of more than $370 million, putting general funds in the red by January 1973."

"The General Assembly is in session right now," Dixon commented, "and our information indicates that there is no way of balancing the budget if all recommended expenditures are authorized."

"At the same time," Dixon said, "our two candidates for governor are going about the state, telling voters they will ask for no new or increased taxes, and — even in the case of one candidate — slash the budget by hundreds of millions."

taking note of the actual facts: that Illinois will suffer a net loss in regular funds beginning next September, continuing through January with only a brief period in the black, into May, when available, regular funds will have been depleted from $564 million to only $176 million."

"The results of spending more than the state receives in revenues are apparent — bankruptcy and disaster are not too strong as descriptive terms," Dixon declared.

Dixon noted that the cash management program was initiated by his office during his tenure in order to define the state's cash liquidity over a 13-month period in the future in order to enable him to make optimum investment decisions on funds held by the treasurer's office.

Findings of the program, in which a computer summarizes and tracks actual and projected receipts and expenditures, show this grim fiscal outlook:

After a relatively low-spending August 1972 (low because no common school fund payments are made in that month), "our projections show a net cash drain of minus $143 million for September, minus $33 million for October, minus $39 million for November, minus $84 million for December and minus $72 million for January."

"It took months of planning this cash management program to be able to predict the state's cash flow for more than a year in advance," the treasurer said.

Even after that point, Dixon noted, "we'll still be in trouble. Revenues from state income tax payments, retailer occupation tax and auto license fees all hit seasonal peaks next February, but even that income will put the state into the black only by $25 million in February, and by $7 million in March, reverting to a net loss again next April."

He said the cash management program "allows us to take into consideration all the variations in receipts of revenue."

For example, income tax payments are projected to come in at $110 million next December, $93 million in February, $140 million in March and $165 million in May.

The retailer occupation tax is expected to provide $104 million in December, another $104 million in February, $86 million in March and $95 million in May.

Highway revenues reach their peaks, according to the treasurer's projections, at $96 million in December and $114 million in February, when auto license fees are paid.

Similarly, expenditures fluctuate widely. "It took months of planning this cash management program to be able to predict the state's cash flow for more than a year in advance," the treasurer said.

CMC STEREO CENTER which opened last week at 3142 Nameoki Road. The store is one of the Custom Music Corporation chain which includes 15 stores in the St. Louis metropolitan area and others in Atlanta, Ga., Kansas City, Mo., and Indianapolis, Ind. Manager Greg Zigrang of St. Louis said the store deals in retail sales of car stereos, tape recordings and home sound systems.

of revenues and expenditure patterns can be realistically evaluated only when combined to show over-all, net cash flow, Dixon stressed.

It is here, Dixon said, that the grim fiscal outlook for the state appears.

"Without a correction in the spending pattern, the treasurer's office program of community service deposits in banks throughout the state — where $110 million is now drawing long-term interest — will have to be reduced by almost one-third."

Approximately $35 million of these long-term deposit funds will be needed immediately on Sept. 1, 1972, he said.

"Moreover, we will have to invest the remaining state funds cautiously in order to maintain the liquidity necessary to meet projected obligations."

"Curtailling these investment programs," Dixon said, "will cost the state further — remember that last year, interest on investments by the treasurer's office added $63.5 million to the general revenue fund."

"When we see the projected net cash flow of general funds going consistently into the red, beginning next fall," he declared, "there's no denying that the state will be in deep financial trouble before the end of this election year and the voters should be made aware of that outlook."

Meter Collections Dip to 8-Month Low

Granite City's income from parking meters during May dipped to the lowest since September 1971, partly due to the installation of a new meter which changed collection routes, Paul Rutledge, city treasurer, explained.

Rutledge said that with the new meter collection routes the income was not collected from several areas in May and that the income from those meters likely will raise the June collections much higher than normal.

A total of $3,330 was obtained last month, $2,740 in meter fees and $590 in fines, bringing total collections for the first five months of the year to $19,914, still ahead of the $19,146 collected in the same period of 1971. In April, $3,042 in fees and $856 in fines were collected for a total of $3,898.

Meters operated 26 days last month, bringing the average daily collection to $128, again the lowest since September 1971 when the average daily collection was $128 from $2,650 in fees and $501 in fines, a total of $3,151.

Collections in May 1971 totaled $3,285, including $4,029 in fees and $1,236 in fines, for an average daily collection of $212.

$10,000 Grant Given For Metals Research

A $10,000 grant has been awarded Southern Illinois University-Southwestern by the National Science Foundation to support research on metal crystals by Thomas O. Baldwin, associate professor of physics.

The grant is entitled, "Observations of Defects in Nearly Perfect Crystals by X-Ray Diffraction Techniques." The money will be used to hire research associates and to cover travel.

Baldwin will spend two months at the Solid State Physics Institute in Julich, West Germany, this summer. His research will involve cooperative work with the Argonne National Laboratory. The growth and x-ray investigation of aluminum, copper, and germanium crystal damage will be studied, he said.

Baldwin is chairman of the physics department in the Science and Technology Division.

Legion's Stanton Uses Bat, Pitching Arm to Topple Undefeated Belleville

John Stanton spun a two-hit shutout and helped out with his bat as American Legion Post 113 of Granite City conquered unbeaten Belleville 4-0 Friday night at the Belleville Citizens' Park. Stanton struck out nine and walked three, facing only 22 batters in the seven-inning game.

Now 2-0 for the season, the Granite Cityans — managed by Arthur Jovi, assisted by Pat Harris — will host Collinsville at 6 p.m. Wednesday at the Coolidge Junior High School diamond here.

borough and Mike Martinez each collected two of their team's 11 hits. There were four errors by Belleville and two by the visitors.

Forrester started a first-inning uprising by singling, stealing second base and scoring on Scarborough's safety.

Steve Burdige and Martinez also singled to lead the bases but the initial inning ended with only one run across the plate.

The lead grew to 2-0 in the second when Gary Lively walked. Greg Linhart forced him. Linhart advanced on a passed ball and Pitcher Stanton drilled a single.

In the fifth, Catcher Tim Iyeria — who threw out three enemy baserunners — singled after Burdige reached base on an error. Both scored in a wild play as Martinez singled and a Belleville player made a faulty throw to third base.

Cougars Sign 2 More Kickers

Two more outstanding soccer players have signed letters of intent to enroll at Southern Illinois University-Southern this fall, the Cougars' soccer coach, Bob Guelter, has announced.

They are Patrick Gaffney, back and a transfer from Florissant Valley Community College, St. Louis, and Dave Fitzer, another back and a recent graduate of Mercy High School, St. Louis. Gaffney was a member of the Florissant Valley team which won the national junior college championship last season.

"Gaffney and Fitzer will both be strong additions to our soccer program," Guelter said. "With the five other players who have also decided to join the Cougars this fall... Steve Amacher, Greg Modde, Steve Cacciatore, John Stremlium and Mike Smallwood... SIU-SW's top level soccer play will be maintained."

Stremlium, Cacciatore and Smallwood were also key players on the SECCO team which recently won the national junior college championship.

St. Mary's Wins in 12th; Mercer Nine Wins in Ninth

By WALTER F. STRANGE

Press-Record Staff Writer

It was the St. Mary's Boosters over Fairfax Sunday 2-1 in a 12-inning Illinois Inter-City Baseball duel Sunday at the Third Street diamond in Madison, while Mercer overpowered Monticello 9-1 in the ninth inning to win 107 yesterday at Collinsville.

John Piechinski was the star of the Booster game, as he tagged a four-bagger in the third, and went all the way on the mound for Mercer, fanning 10 and walking one.

St. Mary's holds second place in the league's Blue Division with a 3-3 win-loss record today. Mercer is third in the same division at 3-4.

A hit-and-run play won the game in the 12th for St. Mary's. Young Jay Greer was on first when Larry Gerzits singled. Reminiscent of Enos Slaughter, Greer went all the way around for the big run.

St. Mary's had four double plays in the 12th innings and Al Bragen, the Booster catcher, collected three hits.

"Our pitching was really good. Those seven runs don't tell the true story. Bob Finke went eight innings and did a good job. I sent in Pat Harris in the ninth inning and he fanned three in a row to end the game," Mercer Manager Wendell Core related.

The ninth saw Mercer's behind 7-6.

Finke started off the ninth with a free trip to first and James Muehlhauser entered the game as a pinch runner. Harris then hit a sacrifice bunt.

Larry Corey, who had belted a solo home run in the fourth, tagged a single, driving home the tying run.

Bill Campbell was hit with a pitch, and Jim Greenwald singled in Corey for the leading run. Ed Hagauer walked, loading the bases, and Jerry Duncan singled in Campbell and Greenwald.

Mercer's will travel to meet St. Mary's Boosters on the Third Street diamond in Madison at 2 p.m. Sunday.

In other action yesterday, Highland-Pierson beat the Vans of East Alton 8-4, and Troy blasted Pisano 14-3. Glen Carbon drew a bye.

Rain Interrupts Auto Racing at Speedway

Mother Nature in the form of rain interrupted auto racing at the Tri-City Speedway Friday night and the racing program had to be called off. The drivers will take to the track again Friday.

Wib Spalding of Pontoon Beach, scored the fastest lap in the night, posting a 24.72 on the damp one-and-a-half-mile oval. Tom Corbin, who has a winning streak going of three straight sprint features, was second in 24.74 and Bill Utz clocked 24.75.

The late-model drivers got halfway through their time trials before rain washed out the remaining races.

Prize money has been offered to anyone breaking Corbin's winning streak; also $25 will go to anyone beating the track record of 23.30 qualifying lap time that Bobby Jones of Danville holds.

Mrs. Mueller and Young Win Tourney

Granite City and Edwardsville

There is a delightful Wedding Cup which has been practiced in Europe for centuries, and may even have had its origins in ancient history—this is the Marriage Cup, the very first toast which is drunk at the Wedding Feast abroad, or at the Wedding Supper in this country. It is desired. There are several types of Marriage Cups—made of Sterling, Silver Plate, or Crystal. Some have two handles and a swivel top so that Bride and Groom can toast their everlasting happiness simultaneously or each in turn, or in our country, by tying two toast glasses together with a white satin ribbon with the Bride and Groom toasting each other from their separate, but linked, glasses. It is the duty of the Best Man to announce the Wedding Cup Ceremony.

At Hudson's, we believe that every bride-to-be should establish a Master Plan for her Wedding, a sort of timetable for every single step along the way—and the best possible source for the answers to any questions about customs or proper Wedding Procedure can be found in Wedding's Grey's Book. Your Wedding—243 pages of easy to read, carefully illustrated facts and charts.

And of Hudson's, your own Gift Registry will enable your friends to choose from patterns of your own selection—Sterling, China or a Crystal. Hudson's Jewelers assure you—Your Socially Proper Wedding.

Dry Weather Problem for Area Farmers

By WARREN W. BUNDY
Madison County Farm Advisor

Dry weather, cutworms in corn, and armyworms in wheat and in cornfields adjoining wheat continued as major problems to Madison County farmers last week despite some rain Saturday.

Many farmers continued to wait on the dry spell before finishing soybean planting. Others planted soybeans in dry soil. Risks are involved either way.

A hard, beating rain that crusts the soil followed immediately with dry weather, will cause emergence problems. A rotary hoe can help in such situations.

If, on the other hand, it rains for a week or two and keeps farmers out of the field, the planting date will be quite late for those who waited.

Some fields need rain before seedbed operations can be completed.

A few thousand acres of crops in Madison County had to be sprayed in the last three weeks to control cutworms in corn and armyworms in wheat.

Several hundred acres of corn here were replanted due to severe stand reduction by cutworms.

Corn replanted early in the season needs treatment to protect the second planting from cutworms. But fields planted from now on should not need treatment.

Cutworms are now reaching maturity, will soon stop feeding, and will pupate in most of these problem fields. A full-grown, black cutworm larva is about two inches long.

Armyworms are now nearing maturity. A full-grown worm is about an inch long. After which it is in the dough stage, the loss of leaves is relatively unimportant.

The real damage from armyworms will occur if they begin to cut the wheat heads or if they migrate to other nearby crops. A number of reports have been received in Madison County about herb-cutting and migration to corn.

Herbicide damage to soybeans also has been observed in a few fields.

Davenport ruled that they received private support from the Democratic party organization.

Such "unofficial endorsement" is not permitted under party reform guidelines adopted after the 1968 convention, it was asserted.

Not only was the group of seven informally "slated," but it does not meet guidelines for representation of women, minority groups and voters under the age of 30, the challenge by Kimble Funk of Edwardsville alleged.

Karns, acting as counsel for those challenged, on Friday filed documents disagreeing with the ruling. The case is expected to be heard by the full Credentials Committee later this month in Washington.

A challenge also may be raised or decided on the floor of the convention.

Young Voters 'Hardly Care at All' for Privilege, Sen. Percy Tells Graduates

If the March Illinois primary turnout is any indication, newly enfranchised voters in southern Illinois "hardly care at all" about their right to vote, U. S. Sen. Charles H. Percy (R-Ill.) said Saturday at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern.

Sen. Percy was the speaker at commencement exercises during which degrees were conferred on more than 1,600 by SIU-SW President John S. Rendleman.

The senator cited a study of primary voting habits of students from Jackson, Franklin and Williamson counties which showed that approximately half of those in the 18 to 20-year-old age group who were eligible to vote did not do so.

The study was conducted by the Center for Communication and Research at SIU at Carbondale.

The senator said the newly enfranchised voters represented more than 45% of the total number of people who did vote. "They (new voters) comprised a large enough block of voters to determine the outcome of the election, but they chose not to participate," the senator said.

No Excuse

Sen. Percy said this trend had repeated itself throughout the downstate area and "whatever the explanation, there is no excuse."

"Remember that the most precious gift you have is the right to be a free citizen in a free society. Use that freedom to participate, to shape, to influence and to count to the fullest," he told the graduates.

The senator said he had co-sponsored the 26th Amendment which gives persons 18 years of age the right to vote.

"I did so, in part, because young Americans' your age demonstrated the willingness and ability to participate as fully as possible in the democratic process. Much of my faith in the future of our country stems from my belief that you will maintain your commitment to participate and to encourage others to participate," he said.

Sen. Percy praised the current college generation as one which had "changed the course of a war, helped awaken a nation to the need for preserving its environment and marched in the front ranks of the battles against poverty and racial discrimination." Having committed themselves so deeply and so passionately, he said, "I believe you are hardly likely to abandon your convictions and turn your back on your country."

Still Out of Balance

Describing government as "the act of balancing the need for one program against another," Sen. Percy said government is "still out of balance in many important areas." He cited unemployment, poverty, proper care for the elderly, the funding of anti-pollution efforts and safety in cities as continuing problems.

Sections of a new pollution-control air filtering system are lowered by helicopter to the roof of Wagner Castings Company in Decatur.

Illinois' war on air pollution gets a new weapon

Wagner Castings Company of Decatur is investing heavily in new equipment to control air pollution.

A new electric powered air filtering and dust collecting system at the firm's foundry is expected to eliminate more than 99 per cent of dust and particulates thrown off in the production of red-hot castings. Meeting all requirements of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, the air cleaning and filtering system will also improve working conditions in the plant.

Wagner has also replaced its melting furnaces with six modern electric furnaces which eliminate smoke and particulate emissions.

Electric energy—the cleanest of all fuels at point of use—is an essential part of this pollution control program. Wagner's new furnaces, for instance, will use as much as 2.9 million kilowatt hours of Illinois Power's electric energy a month. That's about the same as a city of 3,500 people used in September of 1971, and producing it requires less coal than formerly used by Wagner's to do the same job.

Providing energy is our business. Using it wisely is everybody's business. Wagner Castings sets a good example.

EPA Corrects Management

By BOB ESTILL
Copley News Service

Springfield — The Environmental Protection Agency, earlier given a black eye by private auditors for sloppy fiscal management, now has corrected most problems detected in the audit.

In an audit follow-up report released by the EPA, the Decatur-based accounting firm of Sleeper, Nalefski and Catlin said the agency has made "outstanding efforts" towards implementing the firm's recommendations.

The Decatur firm had been sharply critical of the EPA's money handling in its audit of operations for the 1971 fiscal year which ended June 30, 1971.

On Feb. 29, when the auditors met with EPA management to review the audit, EPA director William L. Blaser indicated that many of the firm's recommendations already had been started or implemented as result of prior internal checks by the EPA management.

Blaser then hired the firm at a cost not to exceed $3,000 to make a follow-up study of the effectiveness of changes made to correct the problems.

Duplicate Payments

In its original audit, the firm had noted the EPA made duplicate payments to some vendors, made payments from the wrong accounts, had inadequate controls over state property, granted authorization for travel by state employees after the trips had been made, paid employees for travel expenses without any records of support payments, made duplicate payments to motels for employees' lodgings, and failed to keep track of spending in some instances to the point money was obligated than was appropriated.

The bookkeeping was so poor that in one instance a $1,600 check received from the city of Springfield last May for a pollution fine wasn't discovered until November. The EPA had to ask the city for another check because the old one was no longer negotiable.

The individual connected with the incident was fired. Over-all, the fiscal controls were so loose the auditors were unable to give an opinion on the financial condition of the EPA or two other anti-pollution agencies covered in the audit — the Pollution Control Board (which holds hearings and imposes fines) and the State Institute for Environmental Quality (the research arm).

No Great Surprises

"There were no great surprises in the audit," according to Deputy Director Allen Andersen.

"It merely confirmed in our minds problems we suspected and were starting to correct." He said the three employees directly connected with the financial management are no longer with the agency.

In the follow-up study, the auditors said 30 of their 42 recommendations to the EPA have been developed to carry eight have been partially implemented, and procedures have been developed to carry out two other recommendations but it's too early to determine if the corrective measures will be effective.

The firm's follow-up report also cites two recommendations that haven't been implemented, but Andersen said corrective steps have been taken there since the follow-up was drafted May 12.

He said the auditors' recommendation the EPA keep a property register detailing all its holdings is in the works but the auditors and the State Department of General Services haven't agreed on the best way to do it. (General Services also keeps records on all properties held by agencies under the governor).

Arch candlebra with sunbursts of Killiam daisies and two 15-branch spiral candlebra decorated with bouquets of daisies, flanked by palms, provided the setting for the 7 o'clock ceremony. The Rev. George Kingore, assisted by the Rev. James Fleming, officiated. Mrs. Guy Pryor presided at the organ and accompanied the soloist, Mark Alexander. Serving as acolytes were Martha Robinette and Steve Sartain.

Given in marriage by her uncle, C. H. Culver, the bride was formally attired in a gown of peau de soie designed in an Empire style. The lace bodice featured a high neckline and long full sleeves were cuffed in matching lace.

The honor attendant's gown of blue organza over luster satin was fashioned with a high neck, line, accented with delicate lace and long full sleeves. Bridesmaids were attired in yellow, pink and orchid. All wore picture hats in shades to match their dresses and carried nosegays of multi-colored daisies and baby breath.

Cyndi Coiner, flower girl, was in a blue frock made to match those worn by the adult attendants. She carried a basket of daisy petals. David Kingore was the ringbearer.

Gerald Lux of Granite City served the groom as best man. David Bourbon, a cousin of the groom, Terry Smith of Granite City and Charles Whitley were groomsmen. Steve Brown and Steve Kraft seated the guests.

A reception was held in the church fellowship hall following the service. Mrs. Frank Sartain and Mrs. Shirley Zimmerman presided at the guest book. After a wedding trip to Hawaii the couple will reside in Anaheim, Calif.

Miss Gail Hamilos Wed In Candlelight Ceremony

Miss Gail Ellen Hamilos, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hamilos, 2451 Lincoln Ave., and F. Gordon Mueller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Mueller, 1320 N. 43rd St., East St. Louis, exchanged wedding vows in a candlelight ceremony Saturday evening at St. John United Church of Christ.

The Rev. Paul R. Surbey officiated at the seven o'clock double ring service. Mr. Hamilos escorted his daughter down the white carpeted aisle and gave her in marriage. She wore an exquisite bridal gown of white satin and lace, designed with a fitted bodice featuring a scoop neckline of delicate lace and long tapered sleeves.

A satin overskirt created a redingote effect over the bouffant tiers of lace ruffles and swept into a cathedral length train edged with lace appliques. Lace petals embellished with tiny seed pearls held in place her shoulder length veil of imported bridal illusion and she carried an arrangement of gardenias and bachelor buttons.

Preceding the bride down the aisle were her maid of honor, Miss Kathleen Brave, and bridesmaids, Mrs. William Smolitz, Miss Susan Raser, Mrs. Ronald Pennell and Mrs. John Melford. Their formal length gowns were designed alike with lace appliques edging the round necklines. Each attendant wore a picture hat and carried a white wicker basket of bachelor buttons and gardenias.

The honor maid was in pale blue and the bridesmaids' dresses were in pink and blue. Little Melissa Pennell, the flower girl, was attired in a white satin dress with long sleeves and a scoop neckline accented with lace appliques. She also held a wicker basket of flower petals.

James Parker served as ring-bearer. Attending the groom as best man was William Smolitz. Duke Mueller, Lance Hamilos, Ronald Pennell, John Melford, Gary Butkovich and Ben Cameron completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

The newly married Mr. and Mrs. Mueller received guests at a reception at the Crofton Hall following the ceremony. After a wedding trip to the West coast, they will reside in this area.

A vocal teacher in the Granite City school system, the former Miss Hamilos received her B.S. degree at Illinois State University and M.S. degree at SIU-SW. She is a member of Mu Phi Epsilon Sorority and the Evening Etude Club.

Unique Montage Donated to SIU-SW

An oil painting depicting figures of two Polish mountaineers has been presented to Lovejoy Library at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus by Mrs. Irene Zdzinski of Richmond Heights, Mo.

Title of the work is "Carole Zdzinski" (Polish mountaineers). The artist is unknown. The 100-year-old montage, on heavy, handwoven linen, is said to be of only two of this type of art known to be in existence in the United States.

The second is entitled "Krakow Dancers" and is said to be of the kind of garments pictured.

The painting was presented to Lovejoy Library in memory of Mrs. Zdzinski's parents, the late Wladislaw and Kazimiera Wisniewski, natives of Poland. They came to the United States in the early 1900's. After failing to find anyone who would undertake the task, Mrs. Zdzinski says she cleaned the picture by hand. "Many, many hours of labor of love were involved," she said.

Mrs. Zdzinski, who grew up in a Polish neighborhood at 20th

Street and Cass Avenue in St. Louis, said her father was a as head of all the Polish organizations in the community and nations.

Donna Holman Married At St. John Lutheran

Miss Donna Ruth Holman became the bride of Michael Charles Johnson in ceremonies conducted Saturday evening at St. John Lutheran Church.

White spring flowers and lighted candles decorated the altar and white satin bows marked the pews for the 7 o'clock service performed by the Rev. Samuel Boda.

The bride, a daughter of Don E. Holman of Granite City, made her home with her grandmother, Mrs. Anna Holman, at 251 E. 23rd St. Mr. Johnson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnson, reside at 2601 Lincoln Ave.

Mrs. Roberta Crawford, a cousin of the bride, sang "Wedding Prayer." The Lord's Prayer and "Benediction," accompanied at the organ by Miss Phyllis Boda. Candelighters were Jeffery and Eliza Brokaw.

Mr. Holman escorted his daughter down the aisle and gave her in marriage. She wore a white peau de soie gown fashioned with an Empire bodice of Chantilly lace and a scalloped sash neckline etched with pearls.

Lace motifs, centered with sequins, trimmed the long sleeves and were repeated on the full skirt, ending at the hemline with a wide band of lace. A full sweep waltz train was fashioned with a wide panel of lace and secured with peau de soie roses.

An Elizabethan cap created of lace and pearls held a veil of bridal illusion and she carried a cascade of white carnations, daisies and baby breath.

The attendants wore formal length gowns with long full sleeves and a high rise waist encircled with a white ribbon, tied with a bow at the front. Their dresses were in pink, blue and yellow flecked with white flowers, and they were matching colored bows in their hair.

Miss Julianne Papp was maid of honor and Miss Shirley Mayfield and Miss Debra Welker were bridesmaids. Misses Christine Hatfield, Karen Kaminski and Anna Crawford, all cousins of the bride, served as junior maids. Each of the girls carried a bouquet of carnations in colors to match the gowns. The groom chose Richard Kaiser as best man, Gary Love and Terry Rigby were groomsmen and Robert Roberts Jr., Thomas Crawford Jr., and David Kaminski Jr., all cousins of the bride, junior groomsmen. Seating the guests were Charles Holman Jr., the bride's cousin, and William Pruitt.

Miss Paula Barrett presided over the guest book at a reception held in the church Fellowship Hall.

Mrs. Holman, the bride's grandmother, wore a pale blue knit and navy blue sheath dress with blue accessories. The groom's mother, Mrs. Johnson, was attired in an aqua linen sheath with a matching lace sleeveless coat. Her accessories were in a complementary shade. Both wore white carnation corsages.

TRIO UNIT INSTALLS

MRS. RITTENHOUSE
Hostesses for the June meeting of the Trio Unit, Madison County Homemakers Extension Association, last week were Mrs. Florence Rapp and Mrs. Mary Ellen Lewis. They served a strawberry delight dessert from a table covered with a crabapple tree centerpiece.

Mrs. Alice Reinehardt was welcomed as a new member. The 4-H chairman, Mrs. Madie Gertsch, introduced four members of the 58ers 4-H Club, Monica Wadlow, Laura Howell, Cheryl Gertsch, and Marian Yevin. Monica Wadlow gave a demonstration on making "crispy-crunchy cookies," and Laura Howell prepared brownies.

The day's lesson was given by Mrs. Mabel Gertsch and Mrs. Ivan Grandstaff on "Insect Control in and Around the House."

The next meeting will be July 11 at 12:30 p.m. at Wilson Park, where the lesson will be "Patio Cookery" by Mrs. June Pritz and Mrs. Helen Schaefer. Hostesses will be Mrs. Naomi Kinney and Mrs. June Pritz.

Mrs. Genevieve McCommis and Mrs. Lucy Stewart volunteered their services to the "meals on wheels" program for a week this summer. Plans were completed for awarding a scholarship to Ruth Orr of the 58ers Club to attend the annual 4-H Week at the University of Illinois, Champaign, in July.

Officers for the coming year were installed by Mrs. Clara Schillinger, who presented the chairman with a rose corsage and the other officers with single roses.

Those installed were: chairman, Mrs. Bea Rittenhouse; first vice-chairman, Mrs. Mary Ellen Lewis; second vice-chairman, Mrs. Mabel Gertsch; secretary, Mrs. E. M. in a Jakich (Mrs. Ada Matras, proxy); and treasurer, Mrs. June Pritz.

The retiring chairman presented the retiring officers with gifts; they included Mrs. Florence Rapp, first vice-chairman, Mrs. Mabel Gertsch, second vice-chairman, Mrs. Ada Matras, secretary, and Mrs. Pritz, treasurer.

Prizes were won by Mrs. Esther Schillinger, a former unit chairman and now a sustaining member, and Mrs. Clara Schillinger.

A day-long program on "Gracious Living" was announced for Sept. 20 at SIU-SW, and an auto school at Wood River High School Sept. 28 from 7 to 9 p.m. All 4-H and Extension members interested in participating.

In the 1972 Illinois State Fair's "bake-off contest" are to contact the Home Extension office in Edwardsville.

The national extension homemakers' convention will take place Sept. 28 and 29 in Baltimore.

Other members attending were Mesdames Ruth Brue, Edna Buerger, Naomi Chapman, Sarah Huber, Mary Markham, Beulah Rensing and Golda Thornburg.

The group participated in a silent auction.
